to rush to the footlights, but it is glad to note that his melodrama performance didn't cause the death of many innocent persons, as was the case at Lexington last year. In Lexington incident he was warned not to send the negro to Lexington for trial, Lockett then being confined in the Reformatory at Frankfort. Lockett had raped and murdered Geneva Hardaman, a ten-year-old child, and the people of Central Kentucky were aroused as never before. But "Howdy Ed" chose to play to the galleries, the negro was brought to face the angry citizens from miles around, and all know the result. Innocent men and bystanders were killed and there are orphans at Lexington and Paris today because of that mistake. The Paris Democrat said then that the same mistake would never occur again during Morrow's term, and here just thirteen months after the Lockett case that prediction came true. The people did not wait for the grand-stand play this time. Old "Howdy Ed" has rushed to the footlights of course, ranting about "$25,000 re-wards," "law and order," etc., and removed the Versailles Jailer, but no one takes Morrow seriously now, and in the event anyone was sent to prison, judging from recent cases, no one need stay inside the walls, as the "reform" management doesn't seem particular about keeping pris-

One has to admire the courage of One has to admire the courage of the Kentucky Racing Association for its stand recently in calling "Howdy Ed's" bluffs and bluster in the Elevi case Hore is the story of the men's and women's committees to Floyd case. Here is the story investigation, reprimanded Floyd. Floyd immediately reported to Gov. Morrow that he had been "called down" by the racing association officials. Now you will see just how big a man our Governor He rushes headlong into the controversy and threatens dire disthe removal of Judge Price and in of the Kentucky tracks. But here the worm turned. Recently the Kentucky Racing Association met, threw the gauntlet down to Morrow by "firing" Floyd outright. "Howdy Ed" has taken his medicine meekly

And to add to the machine's trou-bles not a single Federal appointment outside that of Louisville Postmaster will be at its disposal; By the way, if Col. Petty receives the Postmastersip we hope that he will not be imposed on as when given his present position. As Chief of Police he allowed the machine to destroy a competent force of police and fill their places with by all those present. "yap" motormen and conductors, who have earned wide if not unenviable fame as Louisville's Keystone comedy cops. If appointed Postmaster we hope that Petty will not carry the Keystone regime into our mail service. But to another source of trouble for the Hert-Searcy-Chilton bosses. Judge Huston refused to accept the Republican nomination for Mayor when he saw that he was expected to go America on the stump and defend near Mayor Ireland.

smith and the present misfit ad-

Realizing that Smith's administration has been a failure, the machine has determined to make the near Mayor earn the promised position of President of the Water Company in the event of success this fall. He has been directed to start an alibi campaign and the first gun of "please don't blame us" began in the machine organ, the Herald, appearing last week with a page of alibis for the failure of Smithy's administration, camouflaged by talk on the commission form of government. In referring to his Keystone police department the near Mayor truthfully said: "The most frequent and successful attack is made upon the police department." Thus Smithy acknowledges that the attacks are "successful" because they are true. The people of Louisville know that the unheard-of reign of crime in Louisville can be charged to the incom-KEYSTONE COPS MAKE RAID. also know that in Louisville's long history there was never as many stories of drunken police, shooting scrapes, etc., supplemented by fight-The lynching of the negro James ing and drunken Keystoners right in at Versailles once again gave our the police stations. Now if near gallery-playing Governor a chance Mayor Smith wants to "explain" his administration to the public we suggest that he throw some light on the following questions:

Why did he recede from his platform promise of lower taxes and give us the highest rate in Louisville's history?

Why does he permit the Republican Campaign League, with J. H. Scales as agent, to collectt campaign money from police, firemen and city employes after pledging that he was opposed to it?

Why did he allow the Hert Searcy-Chilton machine to bar Police Captain Bennett from a city or county position after promising a delegation of ministers and the grand jury that he would retain Capt. Bennett?

Why did he denounce horse racing publicly and then attend the races in company with A. T. Hert at New Orleans?

Why does he favor a raise in rates for the 'phone companies and not the street car company?

How much money has been collected for violation of the overtime auto parking law, where is that fund now, and what is it to be used

Now if near Mayor Smith will explain some of the above pertinent questions to the taxpayers he ing the weaknesses of his administration. Of course there are hundreds of like questions but the above are uppermost in the minds of the thinking public.

FACTS About a Public Servant

The Louisville Railway Company was organized in 1889 as a consolidation of the Central Passenger Railway and the Louisville City Railway.

Today it is operating 168 miles of city trackage. The number of cars operated varies from 311 during rush hours to 125 during non-rush hours. It carries annually 80,000,000 cash fares passengers and 30,000,000 transfer passengers.

By construction and purchase of seven suburban trolley lines, with 102 miles of track, the company has brought into intimate contact with Louisville a large and prosperous suburban popu-

It gives employment to 1806 persons (including the Louisville & Interurban) and its annual pay roll is $2,250,000.

It purchases each year supplies and materials to the amount of $900,000, most of which is spent in Louisville.

Bonds to the amount of $12,035,000 and notes to the amount of $684,000 have been issued to provide for replacements, extensions and more modern service. All of these issues have been marketed through Louisville financial institutions.

Seventeen hundred and eighteen stockholders, of whom 1389 are citizens of Louisville, have invested $11,823,600 that this community may have an efficient transportation service.

The company has served this community for more than thirty years, providing new equipment, as the need arose, and, up to the present time, has been able to make extensions and improve the service to keep pace with Louisville's growth.

The service it will render in the future depends on the measure of co-operation it receives from citizens of Louisville.

WELL KNOWN ATTORNEY.

The legal brilliancy and solid information of W. J. O'Connor, Democrat and able attorney, has established an enviable record for devotion to duty, solid ability and undoubted legal talent. He is energetic and in a number of important suits in which he has appeared he has distinguished himself by his undoubted talents. Mr. O'Connor is a fine speaker, thoroughly posted on all topics of the day, devoted to the Democratic party and endowed with a spontaneous wit that lends brilhancy to his eloquence at the bar or on the stump. He is one of Louisville's younger men with a future and the elder members of the profession which he adorns prophecy great things in store for this talented and popular Democrat, who has already won an enviable name for himself in his native city

The total white population of the United States at the close of the Revolution was 3,172,000 and 1,-141,920 were purely Irish, But these figures do not correctly rep-resent their proportion in the resent their proportion in the Colonial army. Joseph Galloway declared in the House of Commons that "one-half of the American army is Irish;" but more accurate nvestingation has shown that practically one-half of the regular sol-diers of the Colonies in the Revolu-tion were born in Ireland and a hird more of Washington's troop third more of Washington's troops were of Irish ancestry. A Killarney immigrant's son, Gen. Sullivan, struck the first blow on land before was was declared by seizing, on December 11, 1724, Fort William and Mary at Newcastle, N. H., and capturing fifteen cannon and a hundred barrels of powder, later to be used with telling effect at Bunker Hill. 'It was the first act which could be regarded as one of open and direct hostility committed by a military force against the Royal Govern-

Then on May 11 came the first sea battle of the Revolution. Machias Bay, Maine, an Irishman, Jeremiah O'Brien, with a few fol lowers on board a sloop, attacked the British warship, the Margaritta, captured her; turned her upon the two British cruisers, the Diligence and the Tapniquish, coming to he rescue, and then defeated a whole squadron, containing some of the largest versels affoat, which had been sent out from Halifax to crush O'Brien. Little wonder that Jame Fenimore Cooper called the deed "the Lexington of the Seas." On May 10.0 1775, the Continental Con-gress issued an Address to the People of Ireland, declaring: "We ad knowledge with pleasure and grat ttude that the Irish nation has produced patriots who have nobly dis-tinguished themselves in the cause of humanity and America." ington's private secretary, Joseph Reed, was the son of an Irish immigrant. The Secretary of the Congress that issued the Declaration of Independence was Charles Thompson, of Derry, Ireland, the man whom John Adams called "the life of the cause of liberty," the man whole word was so trusted that the Delaware Indians adopted him as "the Man of Truth."

HOLY THURSDAY.

On Holy Thursday the Church celebrates the institution of the Holy Eucharist. On this day we should in a particular manner evince our gratitude to our Lord for having given Himself to us, and ask his pardon for the insults to which He subjected in the Most Holy Sacra ment of the Altar.

On Holy Thursoday all the faithul should receive holy communion We can not choose a more suitable day upon which to approach the holy table and testify our gratitude to our Savior. The mass on this day differs from the rest of the office. That of the Holy Eucharist is celebrated, a subject therefore of joy and thanksgiving, expressed by the ringing of bells and the white color ration of two hosts-one for the acrifice of this day, the other to be carried in solemn procession to place adorned with lights, where is kept with great splendor for

WELSHMAN AT HIS OLD TRICKS

The Dublin Freeman's Journal prints Dail Eireann's official report of the negotiations for a truce be tween the British Government and the Irish Republican forces. intermediary was Archbishop Clune, of Perth, Western Australia, and the report is made in the form of a speech delivered at a meeting of Dail Eireann by President De Valera. In this the Sinn Fein leader says the pourpariers ended with a proposition with which Archae proposition with the proposition wit ported as follows:

"On December 1, perturbed the effect on world opinion of his unrestricted Black and Tan warfare apon the Irish people, the British Premier commissioned the Arch-bishop of Perth to come to Ireland as an official intermediary to arthe commission, came and had interviews with the Acting President, with the Minister of Finance and others. He found that they were fair and reasonable men, and re turned to report to Lloyd George on December 8. The attitude of Lloyd George seemed to have changed somewhat during the week. He had before him the document that emanated from six of thirty-two members of the Galway County Council-that document was passed on the world as a resolution of the Council, 'quite unanimously George handsomely appended, also Father O'Flanagan's tele gram-both of which, he believed, or pretended to believe, were india cry for 'peace at any price.' on December 10 the British House of Commons he flourished, as you remember, these of our demoralization, and outlined his plan for the victorious final assault. Father O'Gorman's Appeal to Prot estants in the Auti-Divorce Fight.

Scriptural and Ethical Argument This National

The Brave Attitude of Some Cana dians in Opposing Vicious Legislation

UNNATURAL; ANTI-NATIONAL.

We are by this time well accus-tomed to the phrase "the national evil of divorce." It is indeed a terrible evil. The divorce rate much shigher in the United States than in any other country of the world except Japan. According to report, divorce is increasing in the United States three times as fast as the population, while approximately one out of every twelve marriages ends indivorce. In his book on "Social Problems" Prof. Towne says that "within the twenty-year period, 1887 to 1906, nearly 1,000,000 di-will in Canada. The Rev. John J. ******************************* O'Gorman has issued a booklet, with the imprimatur of Archbishop Mc-Neil, of Toronto, which contains "an appeal to Protestants" to help in

In brief compass Father O'Gor ucational, civil and social conditions, man presents both the scriptural and the ethical arguments against our city and the welfare of his divorce. The occasion for the writing of the booklet was that on April 26 and 27, 1920, the Senate of Canada passed two private bills to provide in Ontario and Prince Edward Island for the dissolution o courts of those provinces authorit to grant divorce on account of adultery. But the writer adds: "These bills fortunately failed to pass the House of Commons. They were crowded out. The attempt wil doubtless be renewed Now is the time for the anti-divorce forces to . canvass the legislators Individually and collectively ap proach your member of Parliamen and get a pledge from him." These lines provide a hint how we may set about the duty of checking of fensive legislation

The proofs from the Bible against divorce must appeal to the fair minded Protestant. We have seldom seen these proofs presented so tural argument," says the author, "must always be a decisive one with a Christian. If Chris legislated on this subject, those who can only look for help now to our profess themselves to be disciple of Christ, whether they be voters or Apostle Paul have recorded what he we have here in Canada, which permit adulterers or adulteresses to re marry, are in accord with the marriage legislation of Christ? There are seven paragraphs in the New Testament which answer in the negative. If we Canadians are to legislate as Christians, our Parliament should pass an act declaring, in the words of the civil code of our oldest province, that 'Marriage can be dissolved only by the natural death of one of the parties. During their lifetime it is indissoluble!"

No less forcible is the reverend author's presentation of the ethical proofs to his Protestant fellow-citizens. "Anything opposed to the procreation and rearing of children creation and education of children Therefore divorce is condemned by cred and most necessary natural unit, the family."

Father O'Gorman shows that di vorce is unjust, unnatural, anti national and immoral. It is unjust because the right of the child is utterly ignored. It is unnatrual because it breaks the natural bond between father and child, or be tween mother and child. anti-national because not merely the child but the race itself suffers from the dissolution of marriage at A1 Sirat Caravan of the Order of divorce. It is immoral because it divorce is given.

Catholics everywhere will wish the reverend writer Godspeed in his final appeal. "Are we Canadians to have our moral sense so blunted, our moral vision so blurred, our moral decision so weakened, that we must have divorce, when the sav ages of the Andaman Islands, the aborigines of Ceylon, the Papuans of New Guinea, and other race just as barbarous, never tolerated it? In the name of God, let us unite to abolish divorce."

HISTORY OR PROPAGANDA?

The Principal of an American high school has protested against the revision of text books of American history in the name of Anglo-American friendship. He charges that Paul Jones, Nathan Hale, Oliver Hazard Perry and Ethan Al-len are belittled and historic American epigrams ignored because "the pride of the mistress of the seas must not be affronted." He asserts that those responsible for the re-vision of the text-books "labor under the impression that in order for England and America to be friends, it is first neecssary for us to change our national history and eliminate anything which might be offensive to English pride." He adds: "We object to this just as an Englishman of spirit would repudiate a history in which the facts of Crecy,

A very curious and distinguishing characteristic of the Gaelic alphabet is that nearly every letter thereof is represented by a tree. While the alphabet of ancient Gaelic comprised but 17 letters, that of modern Gaelic has 18. But with the new, as with the old forms, the letter is represented by a tree. exceptions are "g," "t" and The "u," which stand for "ivy," "furze" and

'heather." The alphabet now stands: Ailm, beits, coll, dur, eagh, fearn, gath, huath, jogh, luis, muin, oiv, peith, equal to saying: Elm, birch, hazel, oak, aspen, alder, ivy, whitehorn, yew, rowan, or quicken, vine, ash, spindle tree, pine, elder. furze, heath. In the old Gaelic alphabet the letter "h" (the huath or whitehorn) does not exist. The alphabet is called the beth-luisnuin, because "b," "l," "n" and not "a," "b," "c" are the first three letters.

We are supporting 500 young men in college and we have recently perfected a chain of 107 night schools in the principal cities of the country and a national system of extra-mural forum courses for the general public. We know something of the educational problem confronting the United States, and ruis, suil, teine, ur, all of which is we know that that problem can better be met by each State attending to its own educational affairs than by the Federal Bureau of Education attempting to supervise all The States have each an educational body quite capable, if sufficient pressure is exterted from executive power, of attending to the educational concerns of the State If, for instance, Georgia is backward in education, that is no reason why New York should be compelled to pay any part of Georgia's education bill when the citizens of Georgia, if aroused, would demand efficient educational administration. no matter what the cost. Atheism brought like so many pesus into their great State by the Non-Partisan League."

Such a statement is unwarranted in the face of the fact that in North Dakota, as elsewhere, economic causes are largely responsible for the condition of stress. While we do not desire to exonerate the leaders of the N. P. L. from all blame or from all suspicion of mismanagement of some of their undertakings, tis only fair to consider the important influence of economic conditions. Writting in the February issue of the Journal of the American Bankers' Association, Frank R. Scott. Vice President of that association for his State and cashier of the Merchants's National Bank at Fargo, gives a report of conditions obtaining in North Dakota which is worthy of serious attention, and which has the merit of offering an insight into some of the factors responsible for the present embarrassing position. "The Conditions in North Dakota at this time, he writes, "are somewhat unauxi, due to a combination of causes, both economic and political. A light crop in this State in 1921, together with the failure of the farmers to market their grain, maturally has retarded liguidation to a considerable extent, resulting in the locaing of a number of banks. The majority of the banks, however, are only temporarily embarrassed and and understand—the unlearned as very condition of religion today in the word: "The difference between the world: "The difference between t and the legislation it has sponsored for a share in creating the present emergency. But he is fair enough to emphasize the economic causes and eevn to dwell on them. fact, other States, in which the N. P. L. is not active, have felt the recent stringency, particularly in the agricultural districts. Oregon, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, these are some of the States, reports from which, printed in the same issue of the organ of the Bankers' Association, point to such conditions in the agricultural sections. And it is only fair to add that North Dakota is unique in that it lacks the marketing advantages practically all the States in question enjoy.

It were rash therefore to join in the cry of the trader shouting Socialism and Anarchism for sheer fear of losing opportunities for profit. It is this fear which is responsible for much of the opposiprofit. tion with which the N. P. L. as a movement is meeting. It is a fact that "business" is hostile, for selfish motives, to that movement. It is a singular fact which may speak for itself that, as the Nation reports, Bernard M. Baruch, late Chairman of the War Industries Board, when asked by the Kansas State Board of Agriculture for suggestions that would help to put this occasion to sound a warning larming on a more businesslike against the alleged dangerous radicalism of the league. ### THE DIFFERENCE.

The underlying idea of a Protestant service for the dead is to comfort the stricken hearts of the mourners. According to the Catholic idea the Requiem Mass is for the soul of the dead. When a Catholic pereft of some loved one really understands this, there is a comfort and consolation in the church's service for the dead that passes the understanding of those who know not the difference between the Protestant and Catholic belief. The Catholic Church comforts and helps the living by helping the dead. Ac-cording to Protestant teaching, the departed soul is beyond all aid from the fliving, and so the funeral services are directed toward the consolation of those who are left our own immortal George Washington, in recognition of the valor his Irish troops, himself gave the name of "St. Patrick" as the countersign for the entire Continental army that memorable day; that he made Gen. Sullivan, who commanded the brave brigade of Irishmen on Dorchester Heights, the commander of the day, and then and there raised him to the rank of Brigadier General; that he also placed Gen Knox, the son of an Irishman, in command of the Heights. Let us not forget that at Valley Forge, March 17, 1778, after a demonstration of oyalty by his Irish troops, George Washington said, "I, too, am a lover St. Patrick and must conclude this affair by making all the army keep this day.

Ireland—the virgin island on which Roman proconsul never set foot—was the only country in Western Europe where the gospel was planted without a previous conquest of arms. What followed as a result of the great work of St. Patrick in Ireland is one of the salient facts in the history of civilization—the uplifting influence of the Irish in the pagan and semi-Christian nations of the north and west of Europe during several centuries succeeding his beneficient career.

St. Patrick, the apostle of Ireland, bore the marks of lofty zeal and self-denying labors that have contributed to the world its great religious characters. The man whose work in behalf of a land and people has made him an object of veneration by that people and has placed him high in the calendar of the salints has a memory that is green and undying. Whatever differences exist as to particular facts with respect to the life of St. Patrick, there can be no honest difference as to the fact that he was one of the sblning ones who light the way of life for multitudes with the lamp of faith.

England is using all the power of her diplomatic and financial agencies amongst us to induce the United States to cancel the debt she owes to our Government; in other words, to compel the American peo ple to pay over again for Liberty bonds to that amount which they had already bought at their face value, for that is what cancellation would mean. Surely the American people can not be so idiotic as to consent to any such arrangement. As a matter of fact, England does as a matter of fact, England does not deserve any consideration of that kind. She has already been amply repaid for her part in the war by the accession of territories equal to half the size of the United States.
